

A Germ-Proof Home

In every hospital, everywhere, there are all the time a sufficient number of contagious disease cases to cause a nation-wide epidemic if contagion ever got beyond hospital walls. But it cannot.

The safest haven from disease is right in a hospital where you would be surrounded by it.

Why? Because hospitals are made germ-proof through disinfection.

Nearly every hospital in the country relies upon Lysol to kill disease germs. All doctors recommend it for the same purpose.

Follow their lead, protect your family and yourself by making your home germ-proof.

Get a bottle today—do not use it full strength, for that would be wasteful. Make a solution in a jug or large bottle (a 25c bottle makes two gallons of disinfectant) in accordance with directions.

Use the solution regularly in garbage cans, toilets, cesspools, sinks, and drains, and in dark, sunless corners; germ life will then be impossible in these places. Use Lysol in scrubbing water to disinfect woodwork and floors.

Take these simple, easy and economical precautions and you will make a better fight against disease than it can make against you or yours.

As there are substitutes, remember the One True Lysol is the product made, bottled, signed and sealed by Lehn & Fink.

DISTRICT RED CROSS MOBILIZES VOLUNTEERS FOR "PREPAREDNESS"

President Wilson and Secretary of War Baker to address mass meeting of District of Columbia Red Cross workers in Memorial Continental Hall, April 6, invitations for which were sent out today.

Mobilization of Women's Volunteer Aid Corps being arranged for demonstration at dedication of National Red Cross building, May 12, which will be reviewed by President Wilson.

Executive committee announces five main efforts to be made, the first of which is raising $50,000 for an ambulance corps and for the relief of soldiers of the District and their needy families.

First-aid classes organized in schools, government departments, colleges and throughout District, with Dr. Ryan Devereux as chairman, who is today organizing his committee of prominent surgeons with a volunteer corps of more than 150 physicians who will conduct these classes.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson accepts honorary chairmanship of Women's Volunteer Aid, with wives of Secretaries Daniels and Baker as honorary vice chairmen.

RED CROSS PLANS TO SHOW ITS WORK

Mobilization of Preparedness to Be Arranged at Headquarters' Dedication May 12.

MASS MEETING APRIL 6

President Wilson and Secretary of War Baker are to address a mass meeting of the Red Cross workers of the District under the call of the local chapter of the Red Cross, in Memorial Continental Hall, Friday evening, April 6. Invitations for this gathering were sent out today.

The President and members of the cabinet also expected to review a mobilization of Red Cross preparedness at the dedication of the new American Red Cross headquarters on May 12. This is being arranged as a example for similar demonstrations of Red Cross work throughout the country. At this mobilization all of the activities for relief organized under the general direction of the Woman's Volunteer Aid will be exemplified by the various corps in uniform.

Mrs. Wilson to Assist.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the President, is honorary chairman of this committee, and has notified Miss Boardman, the active chairman, that she will be glad to assist actively in the work. She is going to inspect the District Red Cross headquarters for all activities, in the Washington house, 1501 Massachusetts avenue, soon.

This mobilization will demonstrate the work done in preparing hospital garments and supplies, surgical dressings, comforts and organization of the clerical, refreshment and motor corps, each of which has as captain a prominent Washington woman, assisted by uniformed women in units of twenty. The Motor Corps, organized by Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, had a meeting this afternoon in the Washington House, when arrangements were made for participation in the mobilization. Mrs. Harriman now has ninety-five women who own motor cars enlisted in this corps.

Principal Activities.

The principal activities of the Red Cross at present are being centered on these five efforts:

Military relief organization, with Maj. Gen. Carroll A. Devol as chairman. Women's volunteer aid, in which hundreds of women are enlisted, with Miss Mabel T. Boardman as active chairman.

First aid work, in which classes are being organized in schools, government departments, hospitals and in all sections of the city, with Dr. Ryan Devereux, who has seen considerable service in the medical corps of the army, as chairman, assisted by more than 150 prominent Washington physicians.

Citizens' relief, with C. C. Glover, Jr., as chairman, to take care of the District soldiers called into service and of their needy families.

Finance committee, of more than 100 leading men of Washington, under the chairmanship of Henry B. F. Macfarland, which is raising a fund to support all these other efforts.

District First Aid Classes Are to Receive Instruction From Washington Doctors

Dr. Ryan Devereux, chairman of the First Aid Corps, is today organizing his committee to systematically arrange for giving instruction to first aid classes wherever they may be organized throughout the District. He is also enlisting more than 150 doctors, who are willing to take charge of classes as they are formed in their neighborhoods.

The first aid committee will include such physicians as Dr. J. D. Kinney, District bacteriologist, formerly of the marine hospital service, and one of the most distinguished bacteriologists and sanitary officers in the country, who is a member of the naval reserve; Dr. J. C. Boyd, U. S. N.; Dr. John Van R. Hoff, retired officer of the Medical Corps, U. S. A.; Dr. James F. Mitchell, F. R. S.; Dr. Ryan Devereux, Dr. Charles A. White and Miss Greenleaf, chairman of the nursing service.

Secrets of first-aid classes are already under instruction. The board of education of the District has given permission for the use of any and all school buildings each night if necessary for these classes. Already such classes are under instruction in Business and Western High schools and are being organized in a number of other public schools. New classes have been opened at Gunston Hall, St. Alban's and the Catholic University, and are to be organized in most of the colleges and private schools.

To Serve With Cadets.

Dr. Devereux emphasizes the fact that the high school boys enlisted in this work are not to serve with the militia, but with the two regiments of High School Cadets. A new organization, to be known as the Hospital Corps Detachment, is to be formed from those who stand the highest in these school classes. They will serve with the cadet regiments and have all the equipment the same as the regular army.

In any schoolhouse instruction is supplied in first-aid work for both boys and girls.

Any one wishing to organize a first-aid class can receive all information and assistance by telephoning to North 7366.

Twenty classes of women in first aid work, under twenty physicians and Red Cross supervision, are now being held at the Mason School.

In the government departments classes are being organized. In the Commerce Department there are already four of these classes for both men and women. In the Home Club, Jackson place, several hundred men and women from the Interior Department are to be organized tomorrow night for first and other relief work under the Red Cross. Several Red Cross officials are to make speeches and answer questions.

Other Classes Being Formed.

Other classes are being formed at the navy yard, the bureau of engraving and printing, the government printing office and all the large government workhouses.

The Georgetown University Hospital has offered the services of its entire staff to give night classes in first aid work.

Dr. Devereux is to speak tonight to more than 200 officers and men who are drilling each week at the Riding and Hunt Club, fitting themselves for the business of military training camp at Plattsburg this summer.

These first aid courses are: First, for men who are going into the Officers' Reserve Corps or into the line of the army, who will have a special course exactly like the course given in the army, and will be told how to fit themselves physically for military service. Second, a course for those who feel they are not fitted for military service, who are to be organized into sanitary units.

Contributions in Aid of

Two Red Cross Activities

Solicited by Committee

Are you a patriot?

Are you a soldier's friend?

There are two funds being raised by the finance committee of the District of Columbia Chapter of the American Red Cross, for relief work in the District made necessary by war conditions. One is to be known as "The Patriots' Fund," the other as "The Soldiers' Aid." The former is to be expended on necessities for the needy family of members of the District National Guard as these soldiers are called into service. The latter fund is to provide for tender care of the sick or wounded soldiers themselves.

Contributions to either or both of these funds are solicited by the finance committee, which is composed of leaders in business, professional, social and civic life of the National Capital. The chairman of the committee which will have charge of the relief work in Washington is C. C. Glover, Jr., and he reported to the chapter meeting yesterday that $1,000 a month will be needed as soon as the District soldiers are called out.

In addition to Mr. Macfarland, the officers of the committee are Walter R. Tuckerman, secretary, and Cuno H. Rudolph, financial secretary. Other members are: E. J. The atmosphere of Zululand is so clear that it is said objects can be seen by starlight at a distance of seven miles.

Refreshment Unit.

The refreshment unit is styled a division, rather than a corps. It is headed by Mrs. Larz Anderson, and will furnish substantial refreshments, approved by the War Department, such as coffee and sandwiches, to troops who may pass through Washington. It will operate a field kitchen and pushcarts for the transportation of eatables and drinkables. The refreshment division is now complete, it is announced with twenty-three and forty members.

Miss Mabel Boardman is the active chairman of this woman's volunteer aid, with Mrs. Hugh L. Scott as first vice chairman.

All the arm-bands bear the letters A. R. C. and W. V. A. and small red crosses are worn on some portion of all four uniforms. The refreshment division is now complete, it is announced with twenty-three and forty members.

In the window to indicate the location of the office.

John Dolph, chairman of the committee on distribution, will have charge of the giving out of relief to soldiers' families.

Mr. Dolph was in charge last summer of the very successful work done for the guardsmen's families, undertaken by the Rotary Club. There is a great need for volunteer workers—first for volunteer office workers and second, for volunteer workers to investigate the needs of different families.

Those wishing to volunteer for either class of work will please call and give their names.

There will be a finance committee appointed by the Red Cross immediately. There are now no funds available of the local Red Cross, and this work will have to be carried on by contributions to be secured by the new finance committee, which will make its appeal in a day or two.

RED CROSS FORMS UNIFORMED CORPS

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson Heads Organization as Honorary Chairman.

FOUR UNITS IN NEW BODY

Headed by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson as honorary chairman, the woman's volunteer aid of the D. C. branch of the American Red Cross has just been organized, with the most efficient workers divided into uniformed corps. Any one may register for woman's general Red Cross work, according to Miss Mabel Boardman, but membership in the corps can be obtained by appointment only. The holders must be United States citizens and members in good standing of the Red Cross. Appointments are based on a standpoint of efficiency. Each corps will be divided into as many companies of twenty each as are found necessary. Mrs. Newton D. Baker and Mrs. Josephus Daniels are honorary vice chairmen.

The Red Cross, before making this experiment a national one, is trying it out in the District organization, and at the dedication of the new national Red Cross building here, scheduled for May 12, it is expected that President Wilson will attend and review the mobilized uniform units.

Corps Four in Number.

The corps are four in number: Supply Corps, Motor Corps, Clerical Service Corps and the refreshment detachment.

Among those heading the supply corps are: Mrs. E. F. Fletcher, Mrs. Garrison McClintock, Mrs. Albert Gleaves, Mrs. C. C. Glover, Jr. and Mrs. Randall Hagner. It will make and procure hospital supplies, linen, garments, surgical dressings, bandages and comforts. Its arm band of blue bears the horn of plenty for an emblem.

The dress of the uniform is white, while on the head will be worn a dark blue veil with a Red Cross badge in front.

The fact that uniforms are to be worn and might be misused by unscrupulous persons makes obvious the necessity for the most careful restrictions regarding their issuance. They will be worn, of course, only when the possessors are at actual work.

The clerical service corps, headed by Miss Stella Osborne of the census office and Miss Elizabeth Eckert of the Post Office Department, will wear gray dresses with yellow arm bands bearing crossed quill pens. Appropriately, the complete costumes, most of the wearers of which will be drawn from the federal government forces.

The refreshment unit is styled a division, rather than a corps. It is headed by Mrs. Larz Anderson, and will furnish substantial refreshments, approved by the War Department, such as coffee and sandwiches, to troops who may pass through Washington. ## THE WONDER

The Standard of Clothes Value

It has been five years since we began our Direct-from-factory-to-you service in Washington. In that time wherever our clothes have been introduced men have come to realize them as the standard of value.

In our clothes at $11 you get everything you expect in clothes for which you would pay $18 to $20 in any other store.

You can't go wrong if you select your Easter Suit from our stock, the largest shown in the city. You can wear it with the comfortable feeling that the fit and style are right—that you are as well dressed as any man in town.

We are ready for Easter, with a choice stock of everything that is new and up-to-the-minute in style
